

In2SAM Software License Awareness Training

Awareness Compliance Program

How do you make sure that, besides your IT people, your entire organization is aware of the risks associated with software and licensing?

For this reason, we have developed the Software License Awareness Training for the European and – more specifically - the Dutch market. This training provides all employees in the organization insight and understanding about the challenges regarding software and licensing. Every employee who contacts your ICT business should be certified with the certificate that can be obtained by doing this training. It provides early recognition of risks, but also potential savings can be made visible and realized more quickly.

Goal

The Software License Awareness Training is designed to ensure that the employees understand the risks, which entail the obligations in the terms and conditions of license agreements and copyright law. It helps the employee's organization to detect quickly potential risks and achieve cost savings faster.

Learning objectives

- Understanding laws and regulations (including copyright) and liability
- Understand important license Terms

Training setup

The Software License Awareness Training consists of four modules:

1. Software License Compliance and Copyright (SLCC)
2. Top 5 License types which all employees should know
3. Anti-Piracy Statement and quiz
4. Exam and certification

The course is offered as an online training. If desired, parts can be customized to your organizational requirements.

Access to the on demand training during 45 days.

Management can be offered the opportunity to monitor progress and results.

Benefits for your organization

The Software License Awareness Training will bring the following for your organization:

- Confidence in entering into Cloud , SaaS and volume contracts.
- Prevention of abuse reducing the risk to the organization
- an environment in which software licenses can be obtained and managed easier at a lower cost.

Who should attend?

The Software license Awareness Training is intended for all end users of IT in the organization. The assumption here is that everyone, whether involved in the daily management of software or not, must be aware of the contractual obligations and the most important license terms. The further deepening of this knowledge is available in the other training courses in the ACP

Pricing

The pricing of the online training for an individual is € 95,00. Volume discounted pricing is optional on request.

Additional information

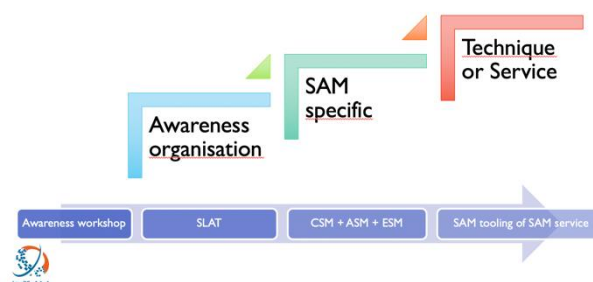

The training is completed with a successful certification exam to be completed within 45 days after starting the training. If requested by the organization the participant can also agree to a company standard HR 'Anti-piracy statement' during the online training as an exercise.

The participant can download and print his certificate at the end of a successful exam. Depending on the HR policy, this certificate can be added to the personnel file of the employee.

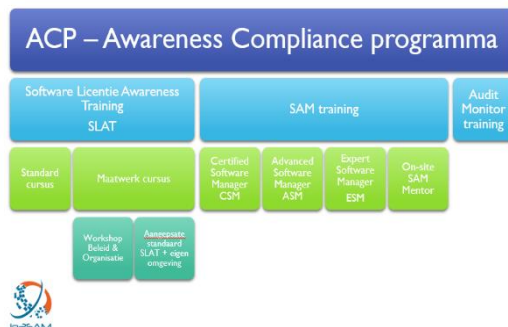

The training can be executed in a standard version as well as in a version adapted to your organization. It's also possible to link with your own internal Learning Management system (LMS).

The Awareness Compliance Program (ACP)

We know that the SLAT training can solve a lot of problems and therefore it is part of a larger program. Instead of starting huge projects, with a lot business and IT processes impact, our new approach will bring immediate positive results. The success of Software Asset Management (SAM) relies on the awareness of all involved. Therefore the first step is a software license awareness training for all end-users in the organization.

Subsequent training

The Awareness Compliance Program consists of three modules:

1. License awareness in general with SLAT
2. SAM Specialist training by Software manager training modules:
 - a. Certified Software Manager
 - b. Advanced Software Manager
 - c. Expert Software Manager
3. Audit Monitor training, for controlling and managing software license compliance audits.

Contact us for more detailed information about the program of specific modules. While engaging with you we are always able to provide you with best fit for your organization.

In association with Licence Logic Institute, In2SAM developed the Awareness Compliance Programma (ACP) for the European market. License Logic has a long lasting history in the Software Asset Management training area and originates from the software compliance organization SIIA (Software & Information Industry Association), the Amerikaanse equivalent of the BSA (Business Software Alliance). Therefore this program complies to SIIA requirements.
